The Gathering for Worship

Hebrews 10:19-25; 13:12-15

The Point: Worshiping alongside others encourages us in our faith.

The Bible Meets Life: It's a scene I will never forget, perhaps the most impressive gathering of worshipers I've ever seen. The band started playing and every single person in a crowd of 90,000+ stood to their feet. I saw the power of gathered worship right before my eyes. Their hands were in the air, and all of them started singing in unison, "The eyes of Texas are upon you," as the Texas Longhorn football team ran onto the field. It was worship alright.

On another occasion, I experienced a similar scene, also in a football stadium. But this time it was the Dallas Cowboys Stadium as 90,000 men gathered for a Promise Keepers event. Those men stood and started singing at the top of their lungs, "A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing." It didn't matter how each man sounded when he sang. All that mattered was how all of us sounded together. And it was something that drew me into the worship of a God worthy of all the worship of those men. I didn't see a single man sitting it out with arms folded.

When the church gathers to worship, we become something none of us can be alone—and it brings the encouragement every disciple needs.

Live It Out: The Starting Place. As you think about your own habits related to corporate worship. What are some ways you could grow in this area of worship? Spend time in prayer asking God to show you how you can grow in your participation in worship. The Growing Place. Identify a worship setting that's different than what you're used to, perhaps in a cross-cultural setting. Invite someone from the group to go with you (outside of your normal worship time) to experience corporate worship in a different way. The Sowing Place. The verses that follow Hebrews 13:15 build on the truth that praise is on the lips of those who confess Jesus. Praise, however, is only one mark of worship. Read Hebrews 13:16-19 and discover other evidence of a lifestyle of worship that naturally flow from the heart of a follower of Christ. Put these principles into practice this week.
